Happy Friday Brian, Stan and Jim!

As a peer mentor for my local community center, I just wanted to say thanks for making your stamp collecting page – <https://sanjoseesc.com/links/>

With the school year half way over, the kids have had some fun mid-term projects to do. A few of them are working on a stamp collecting project. (I loved doing this when I was a kid!) Tying this lesson in with geography studies, their teacher had asked them to find stamps from every country that they could. We've been looking for resources to cite and include, and your page has been a big help! Thanks again for making it!

I also wanted to pass along another reference. It was actually the group who found it... 'Home Hobbies: Stamp Collecting'

<http://www.homeadvisor.com/r/home-stamp-collecting-tips/>

It's a fantastic reference guide, with tons of other helpful sites to check out. We didn't see it listed on your page; can you do me a favor and include a link to it for me? I know you're probably very busy playing catch up from the holidays, but I'd love to show my group....I think they'd get a kick out of it! Let me know! I meet with them when they get back from Christmas break next week!

Hope to hear from you soon...and have a very happy new year!

Blessings,

Ms. Veronica Taylor
